Re: United States v. Jas Pal, 19 Cr. 411 (ALC)

Dear Judge Carter,

I write to request sixty-day delay in Mr. Pal's surrender date. On Thursday, November 4, 2021, the Court sentenced Mr. Pal to five months' imprisonment and further directed that he surrender to the U.S. Marshals on January 7, 2022. Because Mr. Pal's sentence is less than one year imprisonment, it is likely, if not certain, that he will serve his sentence at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn. My understanding is that there is a substantial COVID-19 outbreak currently and the inmates are all on lockdown.

As the Court is aware, Mr. Pal suffers from diabetes, high blood pressure, and high cholesterol. He currently takes eleven medications daily and receives a weekly vitamin b-12 injection. Specifically, he takes the following medications daily: (1) Simvastatin; (2) Januvia; (3) Amlodipine Besylate; (4) Aspirin; (5) Isosorbide Mononitrate; (6) Invokana; (7) Omeprazole; (8) Ergocalciferol; (9) Fenofibrate; (10) Glyburide; and (11) Lisinopril.

Given his current medical condition and the significant and dangerous COVID-19 outbreak at the MDC and in New York City, we respectfully request that the Court delay Mr. Pal's surrender date sixty days.

Respectfully submitted,

César de Castro

The application is granted. The surrender date is extended to March 7, 2022.
So Ordered.
